

Foreign Aid Bill Slashed By Senate

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's $827,250,000 cut in President Kennedy's foreign aid bill flashed a warning to the administration that the whole overseas assistance program, unless sharply curtailed and revised, may be on its way out.

The amendment - riddled $3,702,365,000 authorization measure—more sharply reduced than any since the foreign aid program started after World War II—cleared the Senate Friday by a 63-17 vote.

But the temper in Congress—and presumably around the country, judging from what senators say about their mail—is such that further cuts seem certain next week. Senate and House conferees meet then to adjust differences between the Senate bill and the $3,502,075,000 measure previously voted by the House.

And further reductions appear likely when Congress acts on the foreign aid appropriations measure which will provide the actual money for which the authorization bill simply sets ceilings.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who had the task of steering the bill to passage, said in an interview that the future of the whole program is in danger unless the Agency for International Development (AID) can make it more palatable to Congress next year.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said that "the present pattern of aid is no longer feasible and some new approach will have to be found for American assistance in the development of underdeveloped countries."

With growing protests from around the country against multibillion-dollar expenditures with prosperous Allies refusing to shoulder their share of the burden, Fulbright asserted, "our present course is no longer politically feasible."

The revolt against the program drew support from both parties and was led by Democrats who turned a deaf ear to Kennedy's pleadings.

He told his news conference Thursday in evident exasperation that he had "tried to make it very clear that I cannot fulfill my responsibilities in the field of foreign policy without this program."

Friday, Kennedy had no comment.

The final Senate version cuts Kennedy's request for military aid from $1,405,000,000 to $1 billion; economic development loans from $1,060,000,000 to $950 million; supporting assistance to defense pact allies from $435 to $380 million; the President's contingency fund for emergencies from $300 to $175 million; the Alliance for Progress from $650 to $600 million; and development grants from $257 million to $225 million.

Final passage came after the Senate deferred a bitter row over grain sales to the Soviet bloc.

It did so only after Sens. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., was persuaded to withdraw an amendment prohibiting the Export-Import Bank from underwriting—for a 5 per cent fee—any losses by American banks financing the $6-million sale of surplus wheat to Hungary.

Mundt dropped the amendment after receiving guarantees from Democratic and Republican leaders that his amendment will be acted on as separate proposal.

Marines Team to Help Little Boy

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Bobby Martino Jr., 10, has suffered from spells of internal bleeding since infancy.

Bobby's family has been trying to cope with paying $70 a month for the two required transfusions.

The boy's sister and her girl friend, both 17, wrote their boy friends at the California Marine Base telling of the dilemma.

Pfc. John Carter and Pfc. Terry Farnsworth passed the word to their unit commander. By nightfall a volunteer drive had collected 500 pints of blood, with more Marines signing up to give.

Lynx or Bobcat, He's Still Big

AT FIRST WE THOUGHT THIS 50 POUND CAT WAS A Lynx, but on closer examination discovered he is just a huge Bobcat. Both, of course, are of the same family. However, the Lynx is the only bobbed tail with a complete black tip. This one had real long legs and prominent tufted ears. This cat was killed by Scott Owen of Emmet Rt. 1. He made the kill on Highway 4 about nine miles east of Hope while deer hunting.

Herbist, Midwife Figures She Delivered 599 Babies in a Period of 30 Years

By MARY ANITA LASETER

November 5 was the 80th birthday of Mrs. F. N. Westrope of Ada, Okla., the former Violet H. Rosenbaum of Hempstead County, Ark. Before her retirement, this remarkable lady was a midwife and herbist.

"I delivered 599 babies during my 30 years as a midwife," she said, "and I've never lost a single child or had a single case of blood poisoning."

Only one of her brothers and sisters (there were ten in the family) is deceased. The rest live in Hope, Texarkana, and on Fulton, Route 1. The sisters are Maudie R. Edwards and Annie R. Moss. The brothers are Rufus, Charles, Newton, Claude, Chester, and Ollice Rosenbaum.

Mrs. Westrope and her husband, who taught school in Hempstead County for nine years at Edwards School, Westmoreland, and Old Liberty, celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary this September in Ada, Okla. They became the parents of 15 children, eight of whom are still living. They have 9 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren, and 2 great-great-grandchildren.

Because of her husband's teaching profession, he was often referred to as "The Professor," and Mrs. Westrope was called "Mrs. Professor." She remembers one night right after a hard, driving rain, she was being taken to a sick neighbor when the car stalled in the middle of a creek and threatened to wash away.

The driver had another man try to hold the car while he went for help. At the nearest house he explained, "Mrs. Professor is in a car in the creek and she's about to get drowned." Two boys answered the call for help and reached Mrs. Westrope just in time. She later said, "They were brought into the world by me, and I suppose they were paying me back the favor."

Mrs. Westrope began her career in Hempstead County and delivered or assisted in delivering her first 38 little patients here. However, she and her husband moved to Oklahoma in the year 1910, so most of her work has been done in that state. She delivered her oldest brother's only child, a daughter, and some of her own grandchildren.

No one ever reaches the age of 80 without being questioned about "the good old days." On that subject Mrs. Westrope said, "They have schools and occupations we didn't even know existed when we were growing up. Travel is possible that would

Killed in Deer Hunt Accident

SNOW LAKE, Ark. (AP)—Bill Beatty, 24, of Memphis, was killed in a deer hunting accident Thursday.

Jerry Jones of Memphis, Beatty's companion, said Beatty apparently was climbing a tree to get on a deer stand when he fell and his 16 gauge shotgun discharged into his stomach.

Jones said he heard a shot and found Beatty wounded. Beatty was pronounced dead at an Elaine clinic, 24 miles north of Snow Lake, near where the accident happened.

Accused Spies Enter Pleas of Innocent

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — An American engineer and a Russian chauffeur pleaded innocent today to charges of conspiring to spy for Russia.

The engineer, John William Butenko, 38, of Orange, and the chauffeur, Igor A. Ivanov, 33, of New York City, were arrested by the FBI Oct. 29 in the breakup of an alleged espionage plot.

After the pleas were entered, Ivanov's attorney asked the court to extend the normal 10-day period during which motions can be filed to 60 days. Judge Thomas granted a 30-day extension instead for both men and said they could request additional time at the end of that period.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Sanford Jaffe said that in view of the extension, he did not expect the two to be brought to trial before January.

Attorneys for Butenko and Ivanov also renewed their request that bail be set for them but Meaney said the matter was not within his jurisdiction since a court of appeals had acted on the request previously.

Told Schools Must Get $4 Million More

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council was told today that the next legislature must find an additional $4 million a year to spend on higher education simply to maintain the average per pupil expenditure that the state now makes.

E. L. Angell, director of the Commission on Coordination of Higher Education Finance, made the money estimate on the basis of a projected increase of 4,000 students between now and 1965-66.

Angell said the state now is spending $20 million a year for education, of which $12.5 million goes directly into the academic program.

He said there are now 21,000 students in state schools and this figure should reach 25,000 by the 1965-66 year.

Angell appeared before the council to make a report on progress his commission is making toward standardizing accounting and budget procedures of the state's eight institutions of higher learning.

He said uniform procedures had been worked out and would be incorporated into budgets which the commission will submit to the council next Nov. 1.

The problem of finding more money for more students will continue in an unbroken trend, Angell said, because the commission estimates a steadily increasing enrollment. Its figures now carry through 1973 when it estimates the state's schools will have 38,000 students.

Dr. J. W. Hull, president of Arkansas Tech, echoed Angell's estimates and said he was sure the legislature realized it would take additional dollars to get the job done.

Angell said the state not only should concern itself with educating more students but also should work toward improving the quality of education. He said a high order industrial program requires top quality education.

The council referred to its State and Local Government Committee a proposal by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen for a study of the need for legislation to protect state agencies against the labor movement.

Hull said the labor situation was giving colleges a lot of concern and he felt the legislature should spell out where the colleges stand in regard to negotiating with labor unions.

U.S. Warns Of Consequences In Argentina

By FRANK N. MANITAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina Friday night ignored a U.S. warning of possible serious consequences and annulled its multimillion-dollar oil contracts with eight American and four other foreign companies.

President Arturo Illia carried through with a campaign pledge and issued decrees placing foreign petroleum production and development under the control of the government-run oil agency, Yacimientos Petroliferos Fiscales (YPF). The decrees authorized YPF to use force if necessary to take over the operations.

It was not immediately known whether the companies would be fully compensated since the final annulment papers will be drawn up by Argentina's procurator general. There was no indication when he would deliver his decision.

The U.S. companies, who have estimated that they invested $397 million for drilling and exploration operations, have already indicated they will take legal action to gain compensation.

President Kennedy has maintained that the United States could not block the long-threatened annulment but that the United States would press for full compensation for the American firms.

Washington also has indicated to Argentina that the annulment could result in a reduction or cutoff of U.S. aid and private investments.

A State Department spokesman said in Washington Friday night there was no immediate U.S. comment on the Argentine action.

Economy Minister Eugenio Bianco announced the decrees, which annulled all development, exploration and service contracts signed by the oil companies since May 1, 1958, when former President Arturo Frondizi was in power.

The decrees maintained that those contracts were illegal and "harmful to the rights and interests of the nation."

Illia, who was elected July 7, had made annulment of the contracts a key plank of his election campaign.

There was doubt whether the decrees covered the refining operations of two firms, Esso Argentina, a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Shell Oil, a British-Dutch consortium.

The other companies, which held only exploration and drilling contracts, are:

Tennessee Argentina (Tennessee Gas Transmission, Houston, Tex.); Cities Service of California; Marathon Petroleum (U.S.); Continental Oil, Houston, Tex.; Pan American Argentina International (Standard Oil, Indiana); Transworld Drilling Co. (Kerr-McGee, Oklahoma City); Southeastern Drilling Co. (Port Worth, Tex.); E.N.I. (Ente Nazionale Idrocarburi) of Italy, and Astra and Cadipsa, both of Argentina.

Two Plead Innocent at Murfreesboro

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Two men charged with bilking a Glenwood man out of $34,000 pleaded innocent Thursday in Pike Circuit Court.

Trial for George S. Brown and Clyde R. Rhoades of Hot Springs was set for Dec. 2 by Judge Bobby Steel.

An attorney for Rhoades said he would file a demurrer charging that the Pike County court has no jurisdiction because Rhoades had never been in Pike County until he turned himself over to authorities after the bilking.

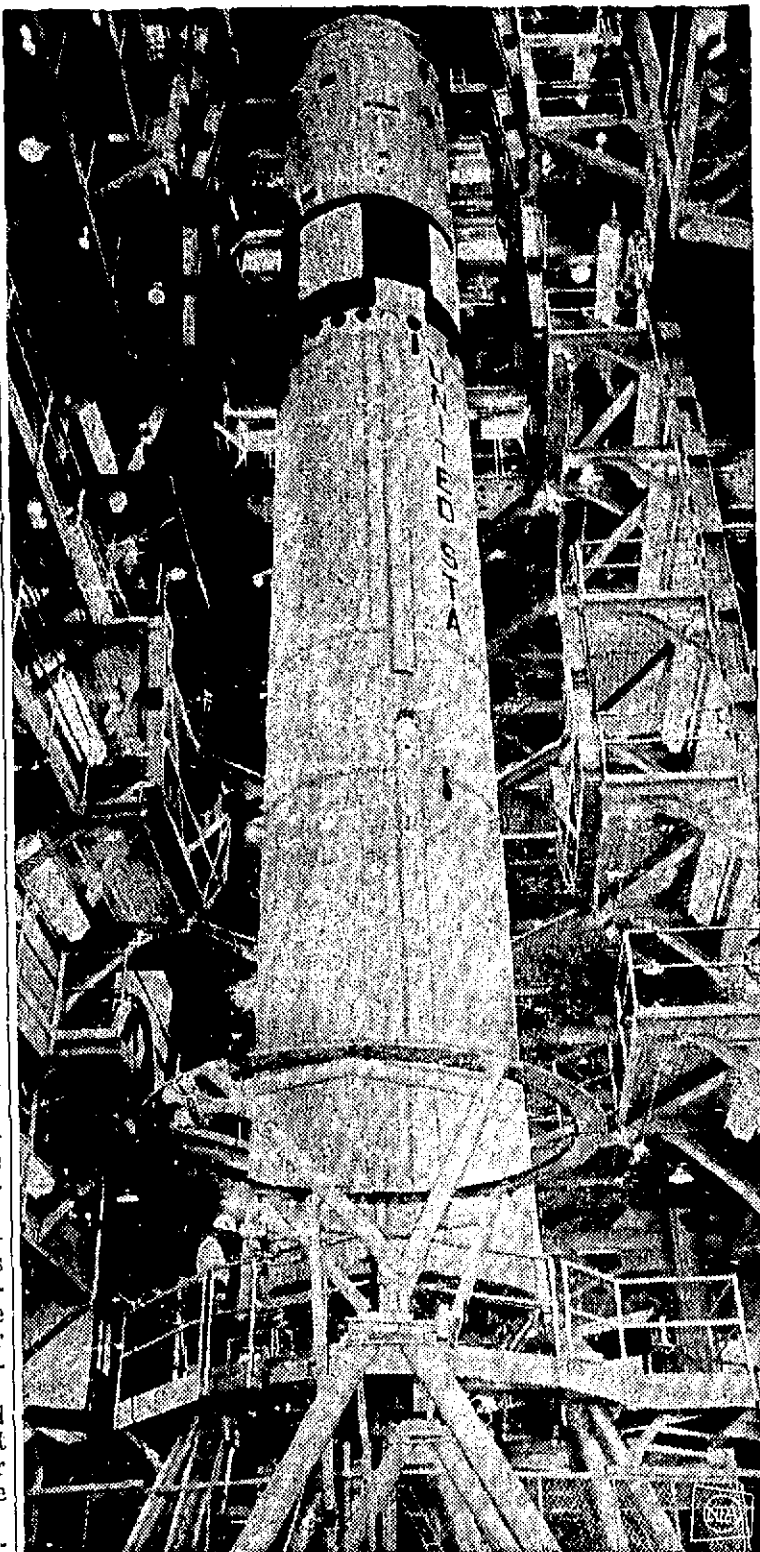

Steel said he would hear the motion Nov. 18.

Rhoades and Brown are free on $15,000 bond each.

Prosecutor Ben Core said a Glenwood man lost $34,000 to two men who had told him he could purchase "jinxed" $1,000 bills for $650 each. The money has not been found, Core said.

Hard to Fit Into a New Financial Era

NEW YORK (AP)—Economic explosions as well as population explosions are complicating the task of fitting the United States into what many see as a new financial era.

At home the problem takes the form of rising charges on borrowing, the purchasing power of the dollar under foreign pressure, the guarding of the nation's remaining reserve of gold, raising the money to aid developing countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

On a world scale the exploding economies have aroused the spectre of finding enough international credit to grease the wheels of commerce.

The problem was kicked around this fall in Washington by world financial leaders at the annual meetings of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund. Some wanted to try an international currency instead of relying solely on gold reserves, plus U.S. dollars and British pounds. Others thought the need for it was still well in the future.

The United Nations report that worldwide economic output had jumped by 225 per cent since 1938, with poorer countries growing faster than the industrialized ones — but their local economies still are out of kilter because of the population explosion which is greatest in the underdeveloped lands.

Since 1958 short-term interest rates in the United States have been affected by financial conditions abroad. Foreigners have built up a huge amount of short-term dollar claims. Part of this has been turned in for U.S. gold to the embarrassment of the Treasury.

It could have been worse, except for the sturdy growth of the American economy itself, says Dr. Marcus Nadler, consulting economist of the Manufacturers Hanover Trust, New York. He also credits the realization abroad that the buildup of foreign-held dollars—result of the U.S. international payments deficit—wasn't caused by a weak economy at home but by defense and economic aid expenditures abroad and by large private investments overseas.

But the worldwide economic growth, which the United Nations survey calls the greatest in history, is changing the picture. And the U.S. dollar, strong as it is, may not be in enough supply to act forever as a world currency.

Bishops to Reveal Talk Results

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Bishops of the Episcopal Church were to reveal today the result of several executive sessions on universal church unity.

The bishops agreed Thursday that four theological principles written in 1886 — the Chicago quadrilateral — still represent their church's attitude toward the ecumenical movement.

Bishop Robert F. Gibson of Virginia, chairman of the church's Commission on Approaches to Unity, said the bishops agreed in a closed meeting that the principles should not be amended.

He said no major statement on unity would be made today, although earlier reports indicated the church might outline a policy that would move it strongly toward ecumenicity.

The Chicago quadrilateral set down belief or adherence to the Scriptures, the Nicene Creed, the sacraments and the historic episcopate as essentials of a united church.

Most of the discussion centered on the historic episcopate, long thought to be the major block to complete Episcopal participation in the unity movement.

Episcopalians believe the church should be governed by bishops and that they receive authority in an unbroken line from Christ's apostles.

Gibson said his commission would make no recommendation on approaches to unity at the church's next General Convention next year in St. Louis.

"The general feeling is that haste is not to be desired," he said. "That the marriage of churches will require a long courtship."

Reds Confident Of Progress In S. East Asia

An AP News Analysis
By CONRAD FINK
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO (AP) — Red China seems confident of making a major penetration in Southeast Asia despite costly U.S. attempts to defend that strategic area from communism.

The target is Cambodia, a nation next door to Laos, Thailand and South Viet Nam, where the United States has invested heavily in blood and money.

Peking broadcasts boast that Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has pledged close cooperation with Communist China.

Sihanouk has explained he is grateful for "disinterested" Chinese help at a time when so-called imperialist nations are threatening him, Peking broadcasts say. Almost daily, the radio describes "friendly and cordial" talks between Chinese and Cambodian officials.

If the Chinese are able to establish a base of operations in Cambodia, all Southeast Asia will be more seriously threatened.

Cambodia's long, ill-defined borders with its three neighbors are almost impossible to close to infiltrators. South Viet Nam claims Viet Cong guerrillas now use Cambodia as a base for raids across the border.

Three major roads run across Cambodia from the South Vietnamese capital of Saigon. Two end in Thailand, the other in Laos.

Prince Sihanouk has broken diplomatic relations with South Viet Nam and Thailand, charging both with border violations and plots against what he calls Cambodia's neutrality.

In recent months, he has shown signs of fear of getting caught up in the type of war that is drenching Viet Nam in blood.

In a newspaper article last September, Sihanouk expressed feeling that communism already has triumphed in Viet Nam and the rest of what once was known as French Indochina.

The prince appeared worried that Cambodia—about six million persons, 88,780 square miles—would be able to stay aloft in the sea of crisis surrounding it. He complained that American policies were a key reason for the supposed Communist triumph.

"Our American friends are remarkable organizers, brilliant technicians and excellent soldiers," he wrote. "But their incontestable realism stops short of the realm of politics, where the attitude of the ostrich seems to them to conform best with their interests."

Far from acting like an ostrich, the United States poured $366 million in economic and military aid into Cambodia between 1955 and June 30, this year. About $30 million was envisaged for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964.

American military advisers are stationed in Cambodia and U.S. Air Force instructors train Cambodians to fly U.S. airplanes. Shipments of American planes were stepped up last year, apparently in reaction to Cambodia's threat to lean more heavily on the Soviet Union for military hardware.

But the Chinese have spared no effort to woo Sihanouk.

Flu Shots Have Done Little Good

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Flu shots widely used in the past few years apparently have done little good, several doctors told the American Public Health Association Wednesday.

Dr. Alexander Langmuir of the communicable disease center in Atlanta said a better vaccine is needed before general use could be justified in cost to the public.

He and other experts said the virus causing flu is unpredictable and easily altered. In effect, it stays slightly ahead of the vaccine makers. The least change in the virus means the vaccine won't work well.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry added the Public Health Service still recommends the shots for older people and those with chronic illness. These, he said, are the ones hardest hit by outbreaks such as the one last year which was responsible for 50,000 more deaths than originally predicted.

Talk Overheard Not Evidence

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Wiley Bean ruled today that a conversation heard by a jailer over a jail intercom system could not be used as evidence against a man on trial for murder.

Gordon Wood, former Russellville jailer, testified Wednesday in the second degree murder trial of Jerry Don Vinson, 22, about a conversation between Vinson and his father which Wood said he heard over the intercom.

Bean ruled that such testimony was not legally qualified and it was stricken from the court record.

Vinson is charged in the beating death of Thomas C. Crane, 54, whose body was found last July 28 in the backyard of a residence where Crane lived.

Mrs. Raymond Vinson, the defendant's mother, testified today that her son was at home all night the night before the body was found. She said she turned off a fan in his room at 2 a.m.

HOLD THAT LINE

"There's a line on the ocean where you lose a day when you cross it. There's a line on the highway where you can do even better." The above thought is borrowed from the Daily Boom-erang, a newspaper of Laramie, Wyo. It's spoken in fun, but it bears a sobering warning.

Relatively few, even in this day of mass tourism afar, cross the Equator. But day in and day out almost everybody crosses that other line, either at the wheel or as a passenger. Outflow of Dollars in Sharp Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) —The flow of dollars out of the United States declined sharply in the three-month period which ended Sept. 30, the Commerce Department reported today.

The deficit in the U. S. balance of payments for the period was about $250 million on a seasonally adjusted basis.

This was only about one-fifth as much as the net deficit for the April-June quarter.

The deficit for the first three months of the year was $851 million, and it was about $1.3 billion for the April-June quarter.

The balance of payments is the accounting sheet that matches all U.S. payments abroad for goods and services, matches all U.S. payments abroad for goods and services, and for maintaining defense forces, against the money received by this country from abroad.

The United States has run up a deficit in this balance of payments for about 11 of the past 12 years.

The amount of the deficit grew sharply in 1959 and 1960, when it reached a peak of about $3.7 billion. This was cut to $2.4 billion in 1961, and $2.2 billion in 1962.

The deficit climbed sharply in the first half of this year, and would have reached $4.2 billion if the six-month trend had continued throughout the year.

The main reason for the decline in the deficit in the latest period was a sharp drop in the amount of U.S. investment money going abroad.

Now in only a matter of seconds, many telephone users can dial their own long distance calls.

Hunter Shot in Arm by Another

DEWITT, Ark. (AP)—One hunter mistook another hunter for a deer and shot him in the arm Thursday. But a third hunter saved two others from asphyxiation.

Clark Shelton, 32, of Jacksonville, was wounded in the shoulder while hunting in the White River Wildlife Refuge. He was treated at a DeWitt hospital and released.

An unidentified hunter heard coughing in a houseboat on the White River near the mouth of LaGrue Bayou in the refuge. He got a boat and went to the houseboat and found Bob Cordell, 51, and James Meador, 29, Cordell's son-in-law, ill in a room with a charcoal burner.

Cordell and Meador were rushed to a DeWitt hospital where their condition was reported satisfactory.

Harry E. Montgomery Jr., 39, a native of Wilmet, is the new $10,000-a-year state Public Service Commission attorney.

Claude Carpenter Jr. succeeds McDermott as the $8,500-a-year attorney for the state Commerce Commission.

And Mark Woolsey of Ozark becomes chief of the state Highway Department legal division and counsel to the state Highway Commission at $11,200 a year.

A Real Summons

PEMBROKE, Ont. (AP) — Zigmund Smaginski of nearby Barry's Bay failed to appear in court Thursday to answer a traffic summons, but he sent an explanatory letter.

"Gentlemen," he wrote, "as to the summons I received, I'll not be able to be in court as I'll be gone hunting."

A second summons was ordered delivered by a policeman.

for Ann." "I heard you were back, Ann," Hal Karmeleni said then. "It's good to see you."

"Thanks, Hal." But her smile, her eyes, were for Bobby Hiram. "I've missed you, Bobby, but I see Dr. Hal and you have been getting along fine without me." They must have gotten along superbly, she thought. Bobby looked wonderful, with healthy color in his face, excitement lighting his blue eyes.

The boy said with an affectionate grin that included both her and Hal Karmeleni, "Dr. Hal's good all right, but I like you better."

Dr. Karmeleni chuckled. "We've a deal on that, Ann. If he is a good patient it's fine with me if he likes you better."

"I didn't like that other doctor."

Brill, Ann thought and some of the glow went from the moment. She said quickly, "I promised your nurse I'd stay only a few minutes, Bobby."

"You'll come back?"

"Tomorrow, if Dr. Hal says it's all right."

Bobby Hiram lifted a skinny fist for Dr. Karmeleni's inspection. "He'd better."

Laughing with them, Dr. Karmeleni followed her into the corridor.

"We've been pretty busy in surgery, Ann," Dr. Karmeleni said after too long.

"Brill didn't spend enough time with the boy. He didn't consider it important to build up a patient's confidence," Ann asked. "Isn't that what you mean, Hal?"

Again that silence before Dr. Karmeleni said, "I suppose so. Bobby was all set for surgery, then he went to pieces."

"Brill wrote me that Dr. Scollin decided Bobby wasn't ready."

Dr. Karmeleni nodded. "Have you seen Brill?"

"Briefly." She looked at him, but the dark eyes appeared to be searching every square of the cork-tiled floor. "I need to know, Hal, Brill pulled a bonehead, didn't he?"

"If it had been anyone but Brill it would have been worse than that," Dr. Karmeleni admitted. "I'm sorry, Ann. I don't like Brill Crayden's way, or maybe I should say his lack of 'way,' with patients but it's every surgeon to his scalp."

DOROTHY DIX

DECENT, DRY, RELIGIOUS —AND SINGLE

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Why is it that at dances, "nice" girls turn a decent, sober guy down for one so staggering drunk he's got to be propped up? Is it because the drunks have more nerve?

My father died when I was seven so Mother reared four sons and a daughter in her way of life; no card-playing, no dancing, no drinking or smoking. I didn't learn to dance until I was 20 and guess I'm pretty awkward at it. But I enjoy bowling with a decent bunch. I've taught Sunday School, led an exemplary life and at 40 am still a bachelor, as are my three brothers. Our mother passed away recently and we're wondering if it paid to stay on the straight and narrow path.

All I have to fall back on are my hobbies: gardening, photography and reading. A lot of my best friends are married women. I've often thought if I had a wife like any one of them I'd be lucky. But there just don't seem to be detached gals of this quality around, or if there are, none who'll give me a second look. I see where Canada may import Australian girls for the bachelors of Toronto. Maybe I should import one, too. What do you think? —Bashful

Dear Bashful: Practice pragmatism by being what you are. Not see yourself as the answer to a maiden's prayer. Stay decent and sober by all means but since most people are decent, why categorize yourself or anyone else in this way?

There are plenty of nice, attractive, unmarried girls looking for husbands, so there should be no need for you to import one. Maybe the reason you feel that your married women friends are better than the unmarried girls is because you relax more in their company. The trick, then is to relax with unattached women. Chances are that they will respond to you and you to them.

Granted that it's difficult to change attitudes and mannerisms built up over 40 years, but at least give yourself and others credit for basic decency. Don't be quick to register disapproval of others and you will find that others will not be quick to disapprove of you.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "The Way to a Girl's Heart."

Dear Helen: My father-in-law than that," Dr. Karmeleni admitted. "I'm sorry, Ann. I don't like Brill Crayden's way, or maybe I should say his lack of 'way,' with patients but it's every surgeon to his scalp."

remarried a year ago. His new wife never had any children and is much younger than he. My own mother died several years ago so Baby has no Grandma except this new one who wants to be called by her first name. We prefer "grand ma." What would you do? —Bothered

Dear Bothered: Forget what you think is proper and let the baby call her step-grandmother by her first name. If your father-in-law's wife prefers it this way, do not show your disapproval to her or to your daughter. It is possible that in time she may want to change over to your way of thinking, but the choice is strictly up to her. Meanwhile, stop making a mountain out of a molehill.

Dear Helen: I was going this week with my mother and girl friend and her mother to get my driving permit, having become 16 two weeks ago. But Dad says, "No, you don't drive well enough for a permit, learn first."

I did learn with an instructor at school, taking behind-the-wheel lessons and completed the course with good grades. But still Dad says "No!" I think he fears he'll have to teach me but why, when I already know how? I'm willing that Mama go with me when I practice but not Dad. I want to drive her to the store and things like that. Is this wrong? —Girl Driver

Dear Girl Driver: Your father is probably haunted by the thought of his little girl behind the wheel of a car on a busy highway. Horrible accidents involving teens occur every day, so don't blame him for resisting the idea of exposing you to potential danger. It probably isn't that he doesn't trust your ability but he is worried about people you may drive with, and others on the road. I am in sympathy with his attitude about young drivers, so you will have to seek support elsewhere. Sorry.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Sonja Henie Still Likes to Skate

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I still like to skate, but"—Sonja Henie shuddered — "It's so cold out there on that ice."
The world's most famous ice skater was explaining why she devotes little time to the sport that brought her movie stardom and a sizable fortune.
"It's hard to find a rink to practice," said Miss Henie, still pert and petite. "The only place I can find here is in the valley, and I have to go in the morning, when the public isn't using the rink. Then the ice has been sitting all night, and oh, it's cold!"
"I don't like to be cold. An it take me at least six weeks of hard work every day to get back in skating trim. I don't want to work that hard any more. I'll never make another tour. To make the investment pay off, I would have to stay on the road for six months — and why?"
"I still skate when I go to Switzerland. And I might go back in training for a televisic show. But otherwise no. I've got too many other things that keep me busy."

Her major project is assembling some $2 million worth of modern paintings which she and her husband, shipping tycoon Niels Onstad, have shipped from their Oslo home.
The paintings, as well as her collection of skating trophies will be on public view next weekend as a benefit for heart research. Eventually they will return to Norway and a museum that the Onstads are establishing.
They spent five or six months here each year, a couple months in Oslo and the rest the time traveling. Contrary opinion in the trade, business matters do not occupy her much.

Chargers to Take on the 'Hot' Bills

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Back on Sept. 28 the Buffalo Bills had a dismal 0-3-1 record in the American Football League.

Coach Lou Saban tried some psychology. He posted a sign on the bulletin board in the dressing room: "We're not in last place. We're just 2 1/2 games out of first place."

It worked. The Bills now are the hottest team in the AFL with three straight victories and five in their last six outings to become a prime contender for the Eastern Division championship.

On Sunday they entertain the San Diego Chargers, leaders in the Western Division, in the top AFL game of the week. A turnout of 35,000 is expected at Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium for this second clash of the season between the Chargers and the Bills.

Kansas City is at Buffalo and New York at Denver in Sunday's other AFL games. Houston and Oakland have an open date.

The Green Bay Packers invade Chicago to battle the Bears for first place in the Western Conference in the headline game in the National Football League. In Sunday's other NFL games St. Louis is at Cleveland, San Francisco at New York, Pittsburgh at Washington, Baltimore at Minnesota, Los Angeles at Detroit and Philadelphia at Dallas.

San Diego, with a 7-2 record, is favored to repeat its early season 14-10 victory over Buffalo. But the Bills are an aroused team these days. A victory would give them a 6-4-1 record, only half a game behind the 6-4-0 mark for the idle Houston Oilers in the East.

Boston, with a 5-5-0 record, is expected to stay in the running for the Eastern crown with a victory over the Kansas City Chiefs who are having troubles with five straight defeats. This is the first 1963 meeting between the clubs.

The New York Jets, by no means out of contention in the East with a 3-5-1 mark hope to get back on the winning track against the Broncos in Denver.

Texas Favored in Cross Country

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Texas is favored to win the Southwest Conference cross-country race at the Fayetteville Country Club Monday.

Ithan Bilgutay, runner-up in individual honors last year, returns. He was second to E. L. Ener, who does not return. Both ran for Texas A&M.

Arkansas' John Deardorff, third last year, and Mickey Wade of Southern Methodist, 13th last year, lead the challengers.

Sophomores Richard Romo and Preston Davis have paced Texas through an impressive inter-league season, with only one loss—to Houston—however, the Longhorns have not run against any SWC teams.

Razorback entries, aside from Deardorff, will be Mike Chilton, Wayne Irsh, Phillip Kih, Jeff Pride, Robert Tennant and Bobby Williamson. Only the first five finishers are counted.

Speculation on Packer, Bear Game

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Experts disagree on what will happen when the Green Bay Packers collide in Chicago Sunday with the Bears to break their tie for the Western Division lead of the National Football League.

Some think it will be a chugging, defensive battle, following much the same pattern of the teams' earlier meeting in Green Bay. In handing the Packers their only league loss, 10-3, the Bears stole four passes and held Green Bay to a total of 150 yards running and passing.

Other experts look for a load of scoring, even to the extent of both teams trying for those long touchdown bombs that they mainly have kept locked up in their arsenal so far.

Lineups have been set by both teams, now that quarterback Bart Starr and end Ron Kramer have been certified healthy by the Packers. The Bears continue to list Ronnie Bull as starting left half, although he has done little hard running in drills because of a bruised foot.

Although Starr has the splints off a broken hand that has sidelined him for three games, Coach Vince Lombardi says he will start John Roach.

"Roach can throw the long one beautifully," says Lombardi, stirring speculation of unleashing the bomb-type pass.

In eight victories and a startling upset loss to San Francisco, the Bears have scored only 24 touchdowns. They have permitted opponents but 10.

With their defense getting the rave notices these days, the Bear offense may be ready to bust out of hiding. The longest Bear run from scrimmage this season have been 30 yards by Rick Casares and 20 by Willie Galtmore.

The Eastern Division lead, tied between Cleveland and New York with 7-2 records, may be untangled Sunday. St. Louis (6-3) is at Cleveland and San Francisco (2-7) at New York.

Predictions in Arkansas College Play

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

Arkansas State Teachers College can sew up the Arkansas intercollegiate Conference football championship this afternoon by beating Henderson's Reddies at Arkadelphia.

The Bears' passing game—headed by quarterback Bob Tiner—is practically unstoppable. But, statistically, at least, Henderson has the best defense—and maybe the one to shackle Tiner's passes.

The latest AIC statistics show Teachers players leading in five categories—passing (Tiner), total offense (Tiner), pass receiving (Bill Shimek), kickoff returns (Bill Grubbs) and punt returns (Grubbs).

It's almost a story-book combination—Grubbs getting the field position, Tiner lobbing the bomb, Shimek hauling it in.

It's hard to beat a combination that has consistently been as successful as this one—with a lot of help in the line—has been.

The Associated Press picks Teachers to win the crucial duel, 19-14.

Millsaps College meets Ouachita at Arkadelphia Saturday, and the Tigers should be ready for this one and want it to keep their winning streak alive. Take Ouachita, 20-7.

Southern State and Arkansas A&M close out their season at Monticello Saturday, and A&M could use a victory to think about until next fall. Especially when they came so close and fell so far short of the AIC title. Take the Boll Weevils, 20-7.

Arkansas Tech travels to Clarksville to meet surprising Ozarks, and it should be the end of the Mountaineers illustrious 1963 season. Take Tech, 24-13.

Survivor Suits Consolidated

ATLANTA (AP)—Suits of 33 survivors of victims of an Air France crash in June 1962 have been consolidated on orders of U.S. Dist. Judges Lewis R. Morgan and Frank A. Hopper.

The combined suits, which seek more than $18 million in damages, resulted in a crash near Paris. The jet was chartered by the Atlanta Art Association for a tour of European art centers.

transforming POWER

How important is this transformer to the electrician! It contains an induction coil for raising or lowering electric pressure. It does not generate power but is master over the current that passes through it. God is that way too. He is master over all. He holds the key to the door and directs the cloud that brings the rain. His love is revealed in the beauty of the rose and his concern for us shown in saving us from the storm. He is Lord, and God, and Master of all. He has the power to control our lives...our wealth...our health. As the transformer is necessary to the distribution of electricity so is His church necessary to the transforming of lives in the community... in the world.
